Anita Nair

Akhila ist bereits fünfundvierzig Jahre alt und immer noch ohne Mann, als sie zum ersten Mal in ihrem Leben eine längere Zugreise allein unternimmt – und das, obwohl sie eine moderne, berufstätige Frau ist. Die strengen Traditionen verboten es ihr, ein eigenes, von der Familie unabhängiges Leben zu führen. Nun hat sie es satt, immer nur die verantwortungsvolle Tochter, verständnisvolle Schwester, liebevolle Tante und Mädchen für alles zu spielen. Auf ihrer Reise nach Kanyakumari, in die Stadt der drei Meere, möchte sie endlich herausfinden, used to be sie wirklich will vom Leben. Nachts, in ihrem Damenabteil, lauscht Akhila staunend den anderen Frauen, die ihr während der Fahrt ihre Lebenserfahrungen anvertrauen. Da ist die weise Janaki, für die nach vierzigjähriger Ehe gegenseitiger Respekt der Schlüssel zum Glück ist. Prabha Devi, die sich mutig aus den Fesseln der culture befreit hat, Margaret Shanti, die erzählt Das Salz der drei Meere wie sie auf ganz subtile Weise Rache an ihrem tyrannischen Mann nimmt, und die junge Sheela, die von den letzten Tagen ihrer skurrilen Großmutter berichtet. Es sind die prallen, sinnenfrohen, aber auch bitteren, tragischen Lebensgeschichten aus dem modernen Indien, die Akhila den Weg in ein neues Leben weisen.

type : conventional relatives drama Anita nair is related to be one of many best feminist writers in Indian writing in english with a world reputation. "ladies coupe" is nair's moment novel Das Salz der drei Meere and has been translated into greater than twenty 5 languages round the world. Overnight Trains ahead of 1998 had a reserved compartment for ladies known as women coupe. Meet Akhila, who's a spinster and leaves in a convention sure surroundings the place humans beleave 'women can stay and cope themself alone'. Akhila was once 17 years whilst her father died. She inherits her fathers task & ultimately the accountability for her siblings and her mother. Being the elder child, Das Salz der drei Meere She realises her accountability and retains her wishes and pleasures at a distance, prioritising her kinfolk needs. She is winning in setteling them. Akhila's siblings are egocentric and feature no regards for her sacrificses. She is harm and not more desires to stick with them. one wonderful day she comes to a decision to trip to a miles unknown position and face new experiences. Akhila meets five different ladies ,wonders approximately there life's and how they can effect her. First she hers to Janaki, the outdated girl who unearths love in security. Akhila needs her existence too will be so predictable with a loving husband and son. Margaret, the chemistry teacher, who marries the guy she falls for. She later realises him a lot different, dominating & cruel. Margaret comples akhila ask yourself how she may have fed on with loads 'bitterness' eventhough she had married the fellow of her dreams. Prabha, the spouse with childrens Das Salz der drei Meere who believes in identifying her manner regardless of the expectancies from her. Sheela , the 14 12 months previous whose figuring out of her demise grandmother paves the best way for her personal destiny liberation ; and eventually Marikolanthu , whose lifestyles used to be deviated, with goals shattered as a result of an incident one evening whilst she was once 17. Akhila is drawn via the lifes of her co-passangers and eventually evoloes to guide her lifestyles on her phrases rather than retrospecting her earlier choices. She reveals solution to her query " can lady be entire with no guy ?". Its attention-grabbing in a manner that Nair has deconstructed the women's 'expected ideologies' . Metaphorically, the teach trip in 'ladies coupe' turns to be a trip of discovering her independence. the writer is shrewdpermanent in deciding on the basis of the tale that's the women coupe; It is going good with what she desires to show concerning the method ladies have been handled differently. The writing is brief sentenced , poetic yet repeatedly she has tired of the details. the most factor relating me is that its unconvincing that every one tales together with akhila's are miserable Das Salz der drei Meere and heartbreaking of their personal way.
